

Fixing the Cracks in Your Technology: A Case Study

How Pawz Pet Solutions Has Benefitted from their Relationship with 1080 Titan Technologies

Sometimes The Cheap Company Isn't the Best Option – It Just Gets You A Cracked TV

Pawz Pet Solutions is a well known professional pet education company based in Florida. They originally started out as a simple pet sitting business, but very quickly recognized a gap in the marketplace for high quality animal education – they took the pet industry by storm! Take that Cesar Milan!

Michele Frank is the owner of Pawz Pet Solutions, and a recent valued client of ours. Although our team only assisted Frank with a small task to start, our quality of work was still able to shine through.

In the following, Michele Frank will elaborate on her experience with the {company} team.

Expensive Equipment vs. Cheap Labour

Ms. Frank initially contacted us because she had an immediate need to mount her new TV on to a wall. She had previously contacted a different company, but unfortunately lost her television due to poor workmanship.

In fact, when we first pulled the old TV off of the wall we discovered that the screws were incorrectly installed. Two screws were the wrong size and used on both sides of the TV – this greatly affected the TV's stability and function.

Our solution for Pawz Pet Solutions was simple. We very quickly mounted her new TV using the CORRECT screws! Frank can now rest easy knowing that her expensive investment is safe and sound.

“ I started looking for 1080 Titan Technologies because I used another company who hung my TV and failed. Unfortunately the person was inexpensive and it cost me my TV. After the person left I put on the TV to watch and there was a crack in the screen (inside not out). 1080 Titan Technologies is not the least expensive, however the result was a TV that works and one I can watch.

The Final Verdict

Ms. Frank discovered 1080 Titan Technologies via our Facebook page - she was impressed by our previous customer reviews. We are very pleased to say that Pawz Pet Solutions is now able to use their TV they way they had always dreamed of – free of any cracks!

I like to shop local when possible and when it does not sacrifice quality. I found 1080 Titan Technologies on a company Facebook page and received a lot of positive feedback. There are very few companies who will give you a timely response via Facebook messaging.
